ALL THE TRAINS

This is a guide for the All the Trains that run on the different lines in Thailand. It is part of an upcoming book called “All the Lines, Trains and Stations in Thailand”. This guide is a first edition and is meant to be only used during a field test to check on both accuracy and usefulness. Please help check for mistakes and feel free to add suggestions to make it better.

Please send feedback about this e-book and any ideas that you may have for future train guides to richard@thaitrainguide.com.

These guidebooks are free to download. If you would like to help with the research budget, you are welcome to Buy Me a Coffee. Also, if you use this link to buy transportation tickets on 12Go, then I get a small commission. By doing this, it doesn't cost you anymore. However, it gives me a budget to produce bigger and better content for everyone.

Thanks, and happy travels!

NORTHERN LINE TRAINS

TRAINS TO CHIANG MAI

The Northern Line connects Bangkok with Chiang Mai by five long-distance trains. The fastest day-train is Special Express No. 7/8, a diesel railcar which can complete the journey in just over ten hours. The most popular sleeper train is Special Express No. 9/10. However, my favorite is Express No. 51, as it passes through the most beautiful countryside at sunrise.

NORTHERN LINE TRAINS

BANGKOK TRAINS: LOWER NORTHERN LINE

From Bangkok Station, there are eight trains going to destinations along the lower Northern Line. Ordinary No. 201 is popular for Ayutthaya, but I prefer Rapid No. 111 from Krung Thep Aphiwat for a quicker trip and more time in Ayutthaya.

NORTHERN LINE TRAINS

LOCAL TRAINS: UPPER NORTHERN LINE

The Northern Line offers four pairs of local diesel railcars (DRCs) that don't begin or end their routes in Bangkok. These trains provide convenient access to smaller stations and halts that Rapid, Express, and Special Express trains skip. Please note: Tickets for 3rd class carriages on these local trains must be purchased at the station on the day of travel.

* Sawankhalok Station in Sukhothai Province is at the end of a branch line that starts from Ban Dara Junction. Another branch line, from Den Chai to Chiang Rai Province, is being built and should be completed by 2028.

NORTHEASTERN LINE TRAINS

UBON RATCHATHANI

There are six long-distance trains operating on the main Northeastern Line connecting Bangkok to Ubon Ratchathani. For the fastest journey, consider Special Express No. 21/22. This diesel railcar (DRC) offers air-conditioned 2nd class seating. If you prefer a sleeper train, Special Express No. 23 is a popular choice, featuring modern CNR carriages. Rapid No. 139 provides an additional sleeper train alternative.

There are long distance trains down all of the branch lines on the Southern Line. For example, to Kantang Station in Trang Province via Thung Song Junction, to Nakhon Si Thammarat Station via Khao Chum Junction, to Khiri Ratnikhom Station, via Ban Thung Pho Junction, and to Padang Besar Station via Hat Yai Junction. The main line goes to Sungai Kolok Station.

SOUTHERN LINE TRAINS

TRAINS OUT OF BANGKOK AND THON BURI STATIONS

Although all long-distance trains on the Southern line depart from Krung Thep Aphiwat Station (KTW), there are two other terminal stations in Bangkok that also have trains to the south. Namely Bangkok (Hua Lamphong) and Thon Buri stations.

SOUTHERN LINE TRAINS

THON BURI TO NAKHON PATHOM STATIONS

SRT has set up these feeder trains to help commuters living on the outskirts of Bangkok to go into the city for work and pleasure. Charan Sanitwong Station is next to MRT Bang Khun Non Station (on the Blue Line) and Taling Chan Junction connects to the Red Line.

SUPHANBURI

The Suphanburi branch line was originally meant to be a bypass for Southern Line trains to avoid Bangkok by directly connecting to Lop Buri on the Northern Line. Sadly, it only got as far as Suphanburi before they ran out of money. Trains only go to Suphanburi once a week on Sundays and return on Mondays. On other days, the train only goes as far as Nong Pla Duk.

The views from Bangkok to Kanchanaburi Station are average. The real highlights come when the train crosses the River Kwai Bridge and passes over the wooden trestle bridge at Tham Krasae Halt. If you're staying in Kanchanaburi, I recommend taking No. 485 from the bridge to Tham Krasae and exploring the area while waiting for No. 257 to Nam Tok. You'll have three hours to visit the waterfall and Hellfire Pass before coming back on No. 486.

KHIRI RATNIKHOM BRANCH LINE

For people doing the All the Lines Challenge, this is not the easiest of lines to complete. There is only one train a day from Surat Thani and there aren't any hotels near Khiri Ratnikhom Station. The easiest thing to do is take an early morning taxi from in front of Surat Thani Station to Khiri Ratnikhom Station and come back on the train. This costs around 800 baht.

NAKHON SI THAMMARAT BRANCH LINE

This branch line is easy to complete for people doing the All the Lines Challenge. Not only is there a long-distance train to Nakhon Si Thammarat from Krung Thep Aphiwat Station (KTW) in Bangkok, but there are also local trains from Yala and Sungai Kolok. It is also easy to find hotels within walking distance from the station.

SHUTTLE TRAIN TO PADANG BESAR

This is the shuttle train that crosses the border between Thailand and Malaysia. There are only 3rd Class carriages and tickets can only be bought on the day. These cost 50 Baht.

In addition, Special Express No. 45, a sleeper train that comes down from Bangkok, also crosses the border into Malaysia. At Hat Yai Junction, a 3rd Class carriage is added for local passengers to cross the border.

MAEKLONG LINE TRAINS

BAN LAEM TO MAEKLONG LINE

The Maeklong Line is actually two lines as there is no railway bridge over the Tha Chin River. The first section goes from Wongwian Yai in Bangkok to Maha Chai in Samut Sakhon. You then take a ferry across the river to the other side where you catch a train from Ban Laem to Maeklong in Samut Songkhram. This is where the famous Market on the Railway tracks is located. However, there is also another market on the railway tracks in Samut Sakhon where the above picture was taken. You will hardly see any foreign tourists at this one.
